

Program

All panels and keynotes are in the Woody Tanger Auditorium on the first floor of the Brooklyn College Library. Registration, Poster Session, Coffee and Boxed Lunch collection are in the lobby of Ingersoll Extension just beyond the Lily Pond. Friday dinner is on the fifth floor of the Student Center (Occidental and International rooms). See map on back cover for details.

FRIDAY

8.30-9 am Registration Open, Coffee Available

9-10.15 am – Arts and the Lived Experience (Lisa Del Sol)

Rebecca C. Pawel, “Anti-Abolitionist Romance: The Discourse of Love and Slavery in 13th century Castilian Texts”

Caitlin Beach, “Emancipation without Indebtedness? On Francesco Pezzicar's The Abolition of Slavery.”

Indya Jackson, “Afro-Pessimistic Perspective in Between the World and Me or “Death Was Simply a Part of the Working of the Trade””

10.15-10.30 am Registration Open, Coffee Available

10.30-11.45 am – Theorizing the American Experience (Jessica Taylor)

Jordan Jochim, “Dis-Analogizing Domination: Tyranny in the Political Thought of Frederick Douglass and Ida B. Wells”

Ian Shane Peebles, “Tearing the Veil: On Du Boisian Double Consciousness from a neo-Kingian Perspective of Self-Purification”

Khalfani A. Lawson, “Of Zero-Point Freedom: The Cost of Othering”

11.45 am - 1.45 pm Lunch in the Community (See inside back cover for suggestions.)

1.45-2.30 pm – Problems of Autonomy in Greek Thought (Tristan K. Husby)

Emma M. Griffiths, “Metal Masters, Metal Slaves: the Cost of Artificial Intelligence in Greek Myth”

Hedvig von Ehrenheim, “Slave Festivals in Ancient Greece”

2.30-2.45 pm Registration Open, Coffee Available

2.45-4 pm – Old Bonds ReMade (Sonya Donaldson)

Christine W. Thorpe, “Free from Slavery, Bound by Historical Traumas: The Economic Bondage of Chronic Health Issues Among African American and Native American Women”

N. Nkosizana, “Yes, Master (yes, massa?): Liberation and Reconciliation of the Black Woman in BDSM”

Misty De Berry, “Affective Accumulation of Debt and Indebtedness: Performance and Temporality in the Lives of Black Women”

4-4.15 pm Registration Open, Coffee Available

4.15-6.15 pm – Paired Keynote Address (Gunja SanGupta)

Deborah Kamen and Saidiya Hartman

6.30-8.30 pm Conference Dinner

SATURDAY

8.30-9 am Registration Open, Coffee Available

9-10.15 am – Free, Yet Bound (Matthew Perry)

Katharine P.D. Huemoeller, “Freedom in Marriage: Manumission matrimonii causa in the Roman world”

Yesenia Barragan, “Accounting for Children: Slavery, Debt, and Gradual Emancipation in Colombia”

Enrique Martino, “Articulations of Debt-bondage and Bridewealth at the Edges of Commercial Empires”

10.15-11.15 am – Poster Session *Coffee Available

Rising Voices in the Humanities and the Social Sciences (Francesco Asano)

11.15 am -12 noon – The Former Slave Speaks (Dan-el Padilla Peralta)

Rose MacLean, “Pro libertate dedit: representing the costs of freedom in Roman Italy”

Gema Ortega, “The Cost of Freedom for Juan Francisco Manzano, a Cuban Cimarrón: Mimicry and Escape from the Discourse of Otherness in Autobiografía de un esclavo (1840)”

12-1.15 pm Lunch Break: Pre-Ordered Box Lunches can be picked up at Registration; or see inside back cover for further options.

1.15-2.15 pm – Keynote Address (Tamara Mose)

Orlando Patterson

2.30-4 pm – State Control of Labor (Reynaldo Ortiz-Minaya)

Kirsten Schultz, “Fraud, Labor, and Value in the Golden Age: Taxing Gold and Taxing Slaves in Eighteenth-Century Brazil”

Keagan Potts, “Freedom and Indoctrination into the Pervasive Surveillance Network: The Separation of Indenture and Racialized Slavery Laid Out in the 1688 Barbadian Slave Code”

Neil Agarwal, “Yellowing the Logarithm: How Money Solved the Problem of Freedom”

Sandipto Dasgupta, “The Construction of ‘Free Labor’: A Story of Legal Definitions from Postcolonial India”

4-4.15 pm - Coffee Available

4.15-5.30 pm – From Past to Present (Thomas DeAngelis)

Fritz Calixte, “American and Haitian independencies and the misunderstanding of freedom”

Errol A. Henderson, “Giving Substance to Freedom: The Implications of the Slave Revolution in the US Civil War to Black Freedom in the Postbellum Era”

Joshua Price, “Jail, Bail or Marronage?”

5.30-6 pm – Closing Remarks and Collective Reflection